Cross the bridge and plank bridge. At next field boundary, follow the line of the path across the field to the right of the church and lodge to the corner and cross the stile into Dumbleton. Continue straight ahead along the village street, passing the church on your left and village shop on your right. Turn left into Dairy Lane, passing the village hall.

Go round the buildings clockwise, crossing two stiles. Cross the field diagonally onto a road track. Continue along the public road and pass through four gates to Naunton.

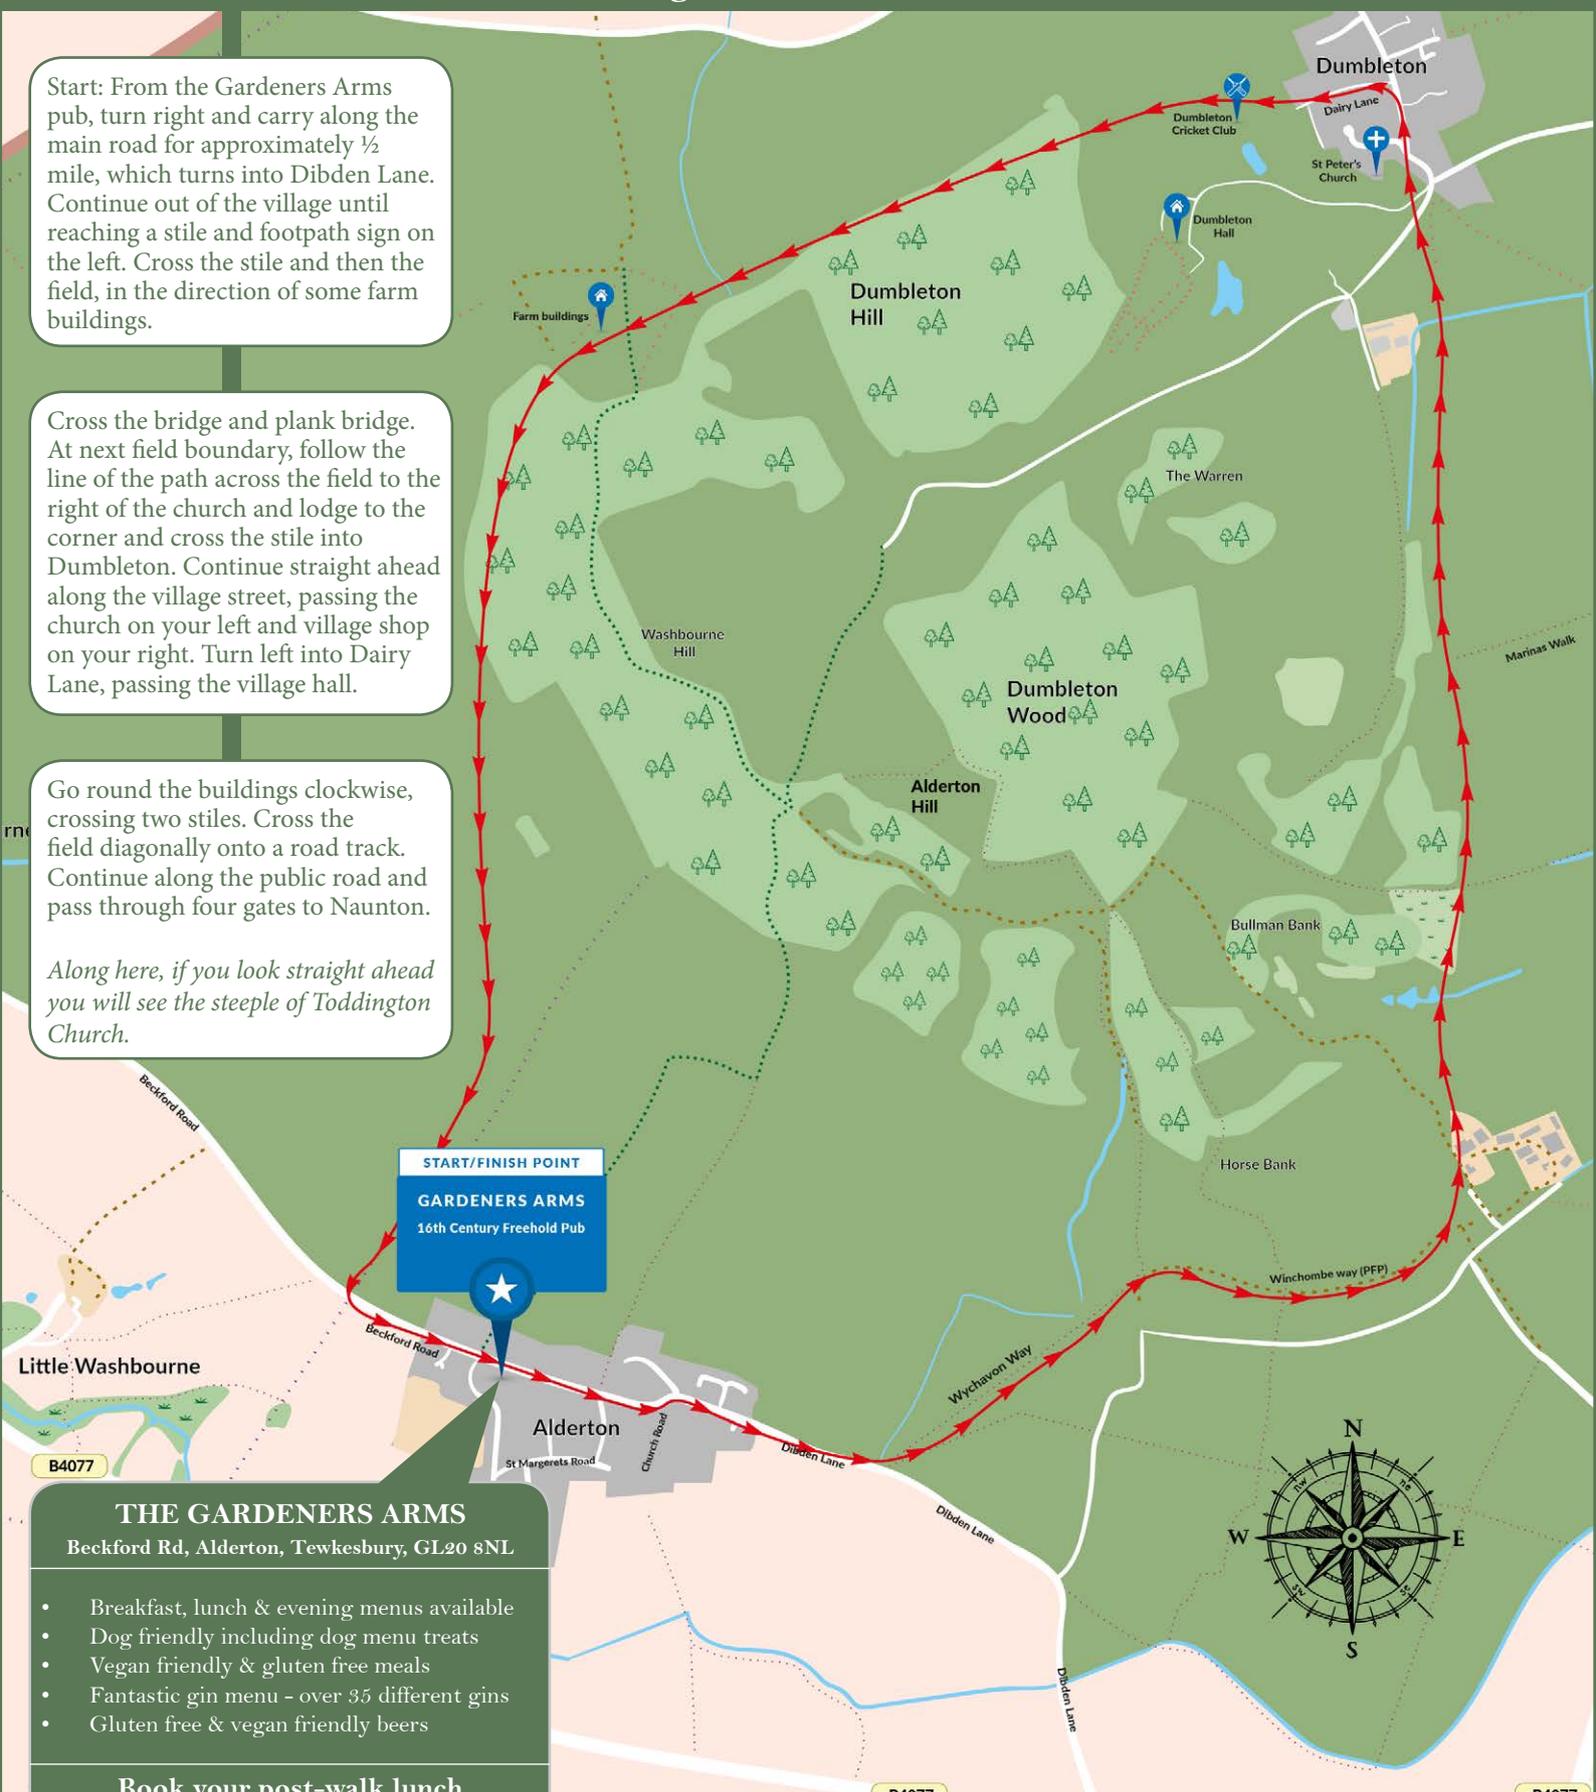

Along here, if you look straight ahead you will see the steeple of Toddington Church.

Alderton & Dumbleton Walks

Walking Distance
Approx 8.8km / 5.5 miles
Easy walking pace - approx 90 minutes

Turn left at a finger post towards Nauncon Farm and continue on the track, passing the buildings on your right to a gate. Go through and keep the fence and hedge on your right to a second gate. Now keeping the hedge / fence on your left, follow the field boundary until you reach a stream and stile. Cross the stile and walk between the two ponds, looking out for pond life. Go through a gate and take the direction of the waymark to the next stile and path at the edge of a wood. You may see a buzzard here.

Continue along the wide track with the wood on your left, going straight ahead over a farm crossroads.

See Dumbleton Hall on your left, a magnificent mansion built in the early 1830's of Cotswold stone and set in 16 acres of terraced gardens and woodland. It has played host to a number of illustrious guests from the diverse worlds of politics and literature, and is now a hotel.

Aim for the stone built lodge in the field, but next and at the far edge of the first field, turn right and go round a line of saplings to a bridge.

See the commemorative plaque outside the village hall for its use as a hospital during the first World War.

Continue with cricket pitch on your left to a waymark and stile on your right. Cross and move away from the metal fence to a stile and fence ahead. Cross the field, ridge and furrow and stile. Cross the field diagonally right, climbing to the edge of the wood. Cross the stile into a wood, over two stiles and turn to the left into the field, following the boundary on your left. Go through a gate back into the wood with the boundary fence now on your right. "Take the next stile on your right and turn left along the boundary to a bridge with stile end.
